

Cyberpsychology

Michael Davis
MindfulBytes

March 13, 5:30-7pm

How is digital technology impacting the way we interact with the world? How is it changing the way that your students think? This EdTalk will define the field of cyberpsychology and provide some tools you can use in your classroom to engage with technology more intentionally.

Where New Mexican educators come together to learn, engage, and inspire one another.

ED TALKS 2025

We believe in empowering educators by providing opportunities to learn with experts in various fields through relevant research, hands-on exploration, and engaging conversation with your peers across schools and nonprofits.

These events are free to classroom and informal educators. A light dinner and childcare will be provided to the first 30 educators who register.

LOCATION: RIO GRANDE SCHOOL,
715 CAMINO CABRA, SANTA FE

The Beauty of Making Mistakes

Barney Saltzberg,
Author and Illustrator

April 24, 5:30-7pm

We all make mistakes, but we don't all know how to embrace and learn from these mistakes. Artist and author Barney Saltzberg will share lessons from his story Beautiful Oops! as well as his experience as a student who struggled in school. We will share resources for creating space for students to make mistakes and maybe convince you to make some beautiful mistakes too.
